

Modern business myths

The suit makes the man.

We've all heard them before, the mantras of modern business: business and pleasure don't mix; never let your guard down. At The Island Hotel Newport Beach, we defy these outmoded adages daily. From our intimate poolside cabanas to the uncomplicated nature of our meetings services, business at The Island Hotel is never "as usual."

Independently owned and thoughtfully operated, The Island Hotel Newport Beach offers a distinct, Five-Diamond experience in a setting that is as relaxed and casual as it is cultured and refined.

Modern business myths

Business and pleasure don't mix.

Hard as it is to fathom, there are those in life that really believe business and pleasure cannot happily coexist. Guests at The Island Hotel, however, are delighted to discover the opposite: business visitors happily find they've concluded a meeting without realizing it, and pleasure seekers find more options for leisure than they thought possible at a "business hotel."
