EXECUTIVE CHEF BILL BRACKEN

When Executive Chef Bill Bracken is asked why he decided to pursue a cooking profession, he responds that it wasn't so much that he chose the profession, but rather that it chose him. Being part of a family where food was an essential part of his life—his aunt and uncle owned the local grocery store where his mother worked, and his father spent 35 years working in a meat-packing plant—an appreciation for real and pure food was a given.

With this being the case, Chef Bracken knows how to place the priority on taste. "There are still too many chefs trying too hard to be creative and putting everything before taste. Taste should always come first."

At The Palm Terrace Restaurant, you'll find the perfect balance of taste and presentation. Artfully presented Small Bites have the benefit of being extraordinary on both accounts; signature dishes such as Truffle-infused Macaroni and Cheese and Potato-Crusted Black Cod have all the hallmarks of a classic dish with a sophisticated accent.

Chef Bracken's authentic offerings spring from his Midwestern upbringing. "When I grew up, we did not dine, rather, we ate to feed our body and soul. Food was about food. Everything was wholesome, pure, homegrown and homemade." One meal at The Palm Terrace Restaurant, and you can experience his genuinely innovative flare for "American-style cuisine with a twist" for yourself.

PALM TERRACE LOUNGE

The perfect place for breathing space.

Extensively renovated to reflect its namesake's lush and inviting tropical theme, The Island Hotel's Palm Terrace Lounge offers guests the ideal place to unwind, enjoy the company of good friends and the sublime stimulations of an eclectic bar menu. From the novel Martini of the Day to new-fangled favorites like the a la mode Zinc 17th (prepared with house-infused ginger vodka, soda, honey and a collection of herbs), you're sure to find a libation to liberate you.

Paired with The Palm Terrace Restaurant's Small Bites menu and the lively, classic-rock sounds of the iconic Jimmy Hopper, the experience of an evening in the Palm Terrace Lounge is waiting to unwind you.

All of the business, none of it as usual.

Business may have brought you to The Island Hotel but it certainly doesn't have to bind you. In fact, most business here has the tendency to happen when you least expect it: during a relaxing luncheon in a private alcove near the pool, engaged in conversation in the sunlight-streaked foyer of our nearly 7,000-square-foot Palm Garden ballroom or on a spur-of-the-moment meeting in our newly refurbished Palm Terrace Restaurant and Lounge.

WHAT DRIVES YOUR BUSINESS?

Of course, you may even find that your best meetings coincide with your best day on the green at neighboring Pelican Hill Golf Course. Designed by the legendary course architect Tom Fazio, Pelican Hill features Ocean North and Ocean South courses—36 breathtaking holes with stunning views of coastal California.

Wherever your business may find you, you'll find more than you bargained for at The Island Hotel.
